Purpose

The Young Pork Advocates Issues Meet is a competitive speaking event for pork industry enthusiasts aged 17-22. Through preparatory research, creative problem solving, collaborative discussion, and drafting mock motions, competitors will dive deep into current pork industry issues and gain an understanding of the NPPC producer-led policy development process.

Eligibility

- Competitors must be between 17-22 years old as of June 1, 2024, at the time of the competition.
- Current employees and interns of the National Pork Producers Council are not eligible to compete.

Competition Format

1. Competitors shall meet in a designated orientation room 30 minutes prior to the first round of competition to receive final information and the opportunity to ask questions. During this meeting, the Round 1 issue topic will be introduced, and competitors will receive their Round 1 competition room assignments. Competitors will draw for seating placement in their respective competition rooms. Attendance at the orientation meeting is mandatory, and absence will result in disqualification.
2. Following the orientation meeting, Room Escorts will escort competitors to their respective Round 1 competition rooms. Each room shall have a Room Escort and Room Moderator assigned by NPPC. The full list of their responsibilities is detailed on page 7.
3. Competitors may not take any prepared notes into the competition room, whether written or electronic. Phones and smart watches must remain concealed for the duration of the competition round. The use of prepared notes or devices may result in disqualification by the Room Moderator at the end of the round.
4. The competitors shall assume their seats which will be labelled with a name tent. Once competitors are seated, the Room Moderator will make opening remarks, introduce the topic to be discussed, introduce the competitors, and re-introduce the topic. Competitors that are not present during introductions will be disqualified. Paper and a writing utensil will be provided to each competitor in the competition room. Once competitors have been introduced, they may begin taking written notes.
5. Next, the Room Moderator will invite the competitors to stand up, one-at-a-time, in voluntary order, to present a 30-second opening statement to the audience. The Room Moderator will state “time” when 30 seconds have elapsed, as a signal to the competitor to conclude their opening remarks and resume their seat. Competitors should strive to deliver their complete thoughts within the 30-second allotment.

6. Once all competitors have delivered their opening remarks, the Room Moderator will open the floor for discussion. Competitors will then have 25 minutes to discuss the provided topic. Any competitor may initiate the discussion, and competitors may speak in any order while remaining respectful of other competitors. The discussion should be directed to fellow competitors, not the audience.
7. The Room Moderator will indicate when 5 minutes of the discussion period remain by raising a yellow card.
8. The Room Moderator will indicate when the 25-minute discussion period has elapsed by raising a red card and calling “time.” The Room Moderator will then call for three minutes of quiet time for competitors to draft a motion and prepare their one-minute closing remarks. Motions must be written on the provided template document at each seat. Competitors may begin drafting their motion at any point during the discussion but must have it completed by the end of the three-minute quiet time.
9. After three minutes have elapsed, the Room Moderator will announce “time,” signaling to competitors to stop writing. No writing may take place after this announcement. The Room Moderator will then invite competitors to stand, in voluntary order, to provide one-minute closing remarks directed to the audience. The Room Moderator will announce when one minute has elapsed for each competitor.
10. Once all competitors have stated their closing remarks, the Room Escort will collect the motion cards. The Room Moderator will ask the judges to exit the room with the Room Escort to a separate scoring area. Judges may not confer with each other until final scoresheets have been collected.
11. The Room Moderator will then ask the competitors to provide a brief personal introduction to the audience. After Round 1 introductions, the Room Moderator will announce the question for Round 2. (The question for the Final Four round will be announced in conjunction with the Final Four competitor announcement).
12. If there are more than 24 competitors, the names of those competitors advancing to Round 2 will be announced in the orientation room 15 minutes prior to the start of Round 2. If there are 24 or fewer competitors, then all competitors will advance to Round 2. In this case, both Round 1 and Round 2 rankings will be used to determine the Final Four. At the end of Round 2, the moderator will announce the time and location of the Final Four announcement, where the four individuals advancing to the Final Four Round will be named.

Competition Structure

Orientations

- Competitor Orientation
 - Competitor Orientation will occur 30 minutes before Round 1.
 - Attendance is mandatory. Competitors that are not present at the start of the orientation will be disqualified.
 - Competitors will receive their Round 1 room assignments.
 - Competitors will draw numbers for seating placement in their respective rooms.
 - The Round 1 issue topic will be introduced for the first time and re-stated at the start of Round 1.
 - Competitors will have the opportunity to ask any technical questions.
- Judge Orientation
 - There will be a virtual Judge Orientation call in the weeks preceding the contest.
 - Day-of Judge Orientation will occur 30 minutes before Round 1 in a separate room.
 - Attendance is required.
 - A final review of judge responsibilities will be provided.
 - Judges will receive their Round 1 room assignments.
 - Judging materials will be distributed.
 - Judges will have the opportunity to ask questions.

Competition Room Set-up

The competition room shall be set up with two tables facing the audience and angled towards each other. Half of the competitors will be seated at each table. A blank piece of scratch paper, motion card, writing utensil, and name tent will be placed on the table at each seat. Competitors will randomly draw numbers for their seating assignment prior to the start of each round. Name tents should clearly display the competitors' names on both sides, ensuring visibility to both the competitors and the audience. The Room Moderator should be seated in the front of the room, and judges should disperse evenly throughout the audience.

Draft Mock Motions

Judges will score competitors on their ability to translate their issue solutions into a mock motion, written as a public policy directive to NPPC. For each round, competitors will receive a motion card at their seat. Please refer to the example motion card on page 12. Motions may be drafted at any time during the discussion period; however, competitors will receive three minutes of quiet time following the discussion period to complete their motion card and organize their one-minute closing statement.

Draft motions should be actionable, creative, refer to discussed points, and may focus on all or a specific component of the issue. Draft motions should also use the SMART framework (Specific, Measurable, Achievable, Relevant, and Timely).

Competitors are encouraged to research the provided issue prompts, brainstorm solutions, and consider mock motion language prior to the contest to assist with time management.

Example:

Issue Prompt: As a grassroots advocacy organization, NPPC relies on investor participation. How can NPPC better engage producers and allied industry stakeholders at the grassroots level, increase participation in the Strategic Investment Program, and motivate actionable involvement in producer leadership, Calls-to-Actions, and other NPPC-sponsored activities?

Draft Motion: I move that NPPC expeditiously develop programming and collaborate with state pork associations to host monthly virtual and in-person Call-to-Action trainings for targeted investors to educate on the importance of advocacy.

Roles and Responsibilities

Room Moderators

- Read and understand the Issues Meet Manual.
- Attend the Competitor Orientation meeting to receive materials and room assignments.
- Ensure that competitors understand the timing procedures.
- Stand to the side and face the audience when speaking but sit in the front towards the middle while keeping time.
- During the competition rounds:
 1. Read the provided opening remarks, state the issue prompt, introduce the competitors, and restate the issue prompt.
 2. Indicate competitors to stand up, one-at-a-time, in voluntary order, to provide a 30 second opening remark to the audience.
 3. Time each competitor's opening remarks and state "time" when 30 seconds have elapsed.
 4. Once all competitors have provided opening remarks, open the floor for discussion and start a 25-minute timer.
 5. Indicate when 5 minutes of the discussion period remain by raising a yellow card.
 6. Indicate when the 25-minute discussion time has elapsed by raising a red card and calling "time."
 7. Announce the beginning of a three-minute quiet time for competitors to draft a motion and organize their thoughts for one-minute closing remarks.
 8. Start a three-minute timer.
 9. After three minutes have elapsed, announce "time" and ensure that all writing has stopped.
 10. Invite competitors to stand, in voluntary order, to provide one-minute closing remarks directed at the audience.
 11. Time each competitor's closing remarks and announce "time" after one minute has elapsed.
 12. Once all competitors have delivered their closing remarks, thank the judges and ask them to exit the room with a Room Escort to a separate scoring area.
 13. Thank the competitors and ask them to provide a brief personal introduction to the audience.
 14. Announce the time, locations, and issue prompt for the next round.

Judges

- Read and understand the Issues Meet Manual, specifically, the scoresheet.
- Read and understand the issue prompts.
- Attend the virtual Judge Orientation call to be scheduled before the event.
- Attend the Judge Orientation meeting to receive materials and room assignments.
- After the Judge Orientation meeting, go to your assigned competition room.
- During the competition rounds:
 - Do not sit next to another judge.
 - Remain consistent and unbiased in your scoring method.
 - Take notes on each competitor and provide feedback in the designated area on the scoresheet.
 - Score competitors for each criterion on the scoresheet.
 - Remain seated until the Room Moderator directs you to exit the room with the Room Escort.
- During the tabulation period:
 - Review and score all the motion cards.
 - Total scores in the appropriate location on the scoresheet.
 - Rank the competitors based on your scores. Break ties on your scoresheet if necessary.
 - Ensure that your scorecard is complete and signed.
 - Submit scorecards to the Room Escort.
 - Do not confer with any judges until all scorecards are submitted.

Room Escorts

- Read and understand the Issues Meet Manual.
- Attend the Competitor Orientation meeting to receive materials and room assignments.
- Facilitate the drawing of seat placement for your assigned room at the end of the Competitor Orientation meeting and ensure that name tents are placed accordingly.
- Escort your room's competitors to the assigned room after the Orientation Meeting.
- Collect the motion cards at the end of the one-minute closing remarks.
- Escort the judges to the tabulation area when directed by the Room Moderator.
- Ensure that all judges receive the opportunity to read and score each motion card.
- Ensure that the judges do not conspire on scoring, and answer questions as necessary.
- Assist with tiebreakers.
- Collect scoresheets and ensure that they are filled out completely.
- Submit scoresheets to the event lead in the designated submission area.

Score Tabulation

A Room Escort will supervise the tabulation of scores, and judges will not be permitted to confer before scoresheets have been collected by the Room Escort. Judges will assign and calculate their scores for the criteria as indicated on the scoresheet. Judges will then rank the competitors according to each competitor's total score. Tied rankings on an individual judge's scoresheet will be broken by that judge.

The Escort will collect the completed scoresheets and enter each judge's ranking of competitors onto the Ranking Tabulation Sheet. The values of each judge's ranking of a competitor will be added together to determine the final cumulative ranking. Please reference the Ranking Tabulation Sheet example.

Ties in the final ranking will be broken first by the rankings for Logical and Creative Solutions, then by Research and Analysis of Issue, and lastly by Conduct and Attitude. If a tie still exists, total points from the judges' scoresheets will be used.

Judges should stay with the Room Escort until all ties have been resolved and the final rankings are completed.

Round Advancement

Round 1: All competitors will compete in Round 1.

Round 2: There will be 4 rooms in Round 2. If there are 24 or fewer competitors, then all competitors will compete in Round 2. If there are 25 or more competitors, then the top 4 ranked competitors from each room in Round 1 will advance to Round 2. The top 4 will be determined by the final ranking in each room.

Competitors	# Round 1 Rms.	# Advancing/Rm.	Total # Advancing	# Round 2 Rms.
24	4	6	24	4
25	5	4	20	4
26	5	4	20	4
27	5	4	20	4
28	5	4	20	4
29	5	4	20	4
30	5	4	20	4
31	6	4	24	4
32	6	4	24	4
33	6	4	24	4
34	6	4	24	4
35	6	4	24	4
36	6	4	24	4

Final Four Round: If there are 24 or fewer competitors, then both Round 1 and Round 2 rankings will be used to determine the Final Four. If there are more than 24 competitors, then the first ranked competitor from each of the four rooms in Round 2 will advance to the Final Four Round.
